6. No leave shall be granted beyond the date on which a Government servant must compulsorily retire :

Provided that if in sufficient time before the date of compulsory retirement, a Government servant has been denied in whole or in part, on account of exigencies of public service, any leave applied for and due as preparatory to retirement, then he may be granted, after the date of compulsory retirement the amount of earned leave which was due to him on the said date of compulsory retirement subject to the maximum limit of 120 or 180 days, as the case may be, as prescribed in Rule 7 so long as the leave so granted including the leave granted to him between the date from which the leave preparatory to retirement was to commence and the date of compulsory retirement, does not exceed the amount of the leave preparatory to retirement actually denied, the half-pay leave, if any, applied for by a Government servant preparatory to retirement and denied in the exigencies of public service being exchanged with earned leave to the extent such leave was earned between the date from which the leave preparatory to retirement was commenced and the date of compulsory retirement :

Explanation : For the purpose of this rule, a Government servant may be deemed to have been denied leave only if, in sufficient time before the date on which he must compulsorily retire or the date on which his duties finally cease, he has either formally applied for leave as preparatory to retirement and has been refused it on the ground of exigencies of public service or has ascertained in writing from the sanctioning authority that such leave, if applied for, would not be granted on the aforesaid ground.

7. (1) The earned leave admissible to a permanent Government servant is one-eleventh of the period spent on duty ;

(2) The maximum earned leave that may be granted at a time to a Government servant shall be 120 days :

Explanation : In this rule 'Permanent Government Servant' includes a probationer.

8. The earned leave admissible to a permanent Government servant in a Vacation Department is subject to the following conditions, namely:

(a) for each year of duty in which a Government servant has availed himself of the vacation his earned leave shall be reduced as follows :

(i) for Subordinate Judges and Munsifs by fifteen days;

(ii) for all other Government servants by thirty days.

(b) If a part of the vacation has been taken in any year, the period by which the earned leave shall be reduced shall be fraction of fifteen days, or thirty days, as the case may be, to the proportion which the part of the vacation taken bears to the full period of vacation.

(c) In cases of urgent necessity the earned leave as reduced in Clauses (a) and (b) of this rule may, except in case of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs be increased by one twenty second of the period of duty in a Vacation Department.

(d) Vacation may be taken in combination with or in continuation of any kind of leave under these rules, provided that the total duration of vacation and earned leave taken in conjunction shall not exceed 180 days :

Provided further that the total duration of vacation, earned leave and commuted leave taken in conjunction shall not exceed 240 days.

(iii) The total duration of earned leave and commuted leave taken in conjunction shall not exceed 240 days :

Provided that no commuted leave may be granted under this sub-rule unless the authority competent to sanction leave has reason to believe that the officer will return to duty on its expiry.

10. Save in the case of leave preparatory to retirement, leave not due may be granted to a permanent Government servant for a period not exceeding 360 days during his entire service :

Provided that this leave may be granted on grounds other than on medical certificate up to 90 days at a time and 180 days in all. Leave not due shall be debited against the half-pay leave the officer may earn subsequently on return to duty.

Note 1. Leave not due should be granted only if the authority empowered to sanction leave is satisfied that there is a reasonable prospect of the Government servant returning to duty on the expiry of the leave and it should be limited to the half-pay leave he is likely to earn thereafter.

Note 2. Where a Government servant who has been granted leave not due under this clause applies for permission to retire voluntarily, the leave not due shall, if the permission is granted, be cancelled.

12. A Government servant not in permanent employ appointed without interruption of duty substantively to a permanent post will be credited with the earned leave which would have been admissible if his previous duty had been duty as a Government servant in permanent employee diminished by any earned leave already taken. (i) When no other leave is by rule admissible, or

(ii) When other leave is admissible, but the Government servant concerned applies in writing for the grant of extraordinary leave.
